Scope note. residential/residential-led transactions remain archived (commercial-only scope). Engineering Resource Group (ERG) / Godspeed — architecture/engineering firm, outside commercial-contractor scope. Kelso Industries (~$1B+ revenue, 31 acquisitions since 2021) noted in Section 04 as a platform milestone, not a single transaction. Sila Services / Goldman Sachs (~$1.7B) is context-only: residential-led and pre-baseline. Stonebridge/Paramount Mechanical excluded (unverifiable transaction date).

02 — Top 5 Deals (Signal Over Volume)

1. Permira → Encore Fire Protection — Recap (PE-to-PE, ~$1.8B, Mar 2025)

Permira acquired Encore Fire Protection from Levine Leichtman Capital Partners in a deal valued near $1.8B, the largest transaction tracked this window.

Why it matters: The single largest dollar-value transaction in the commercial FLS space this window — a top-tier global sponsor underwriting fire-protection recurring revenue at scale, reinforcing FLS as an institutional-grade asset class.

2. Sandbrook Capital + Blackstone → United Utility Services — Recap (PE-to-PE, ~$1.0B, announced Dec 2025)

Sandbrook Capital, with Blackstone Credit & Insurance, acquired United Utility Services (parent to W.A. Chester, B&B Electrical, Williams Electric and more) from Bernhard Capital Partners.

Why it matters: A ~$1B utility-electrical-infrastructure recap confirms institutional capital is scaling beyond building-level MEP into grid and transmission/distribution services — the same data-center-driven power thesis reshaping the broader trades.

3. Bain Capital + Mubadala → Service Logic — Recap (control, Dec 2025)

Control transaction in the largest independent U.S. commercial mechanical services platform.
Why it matters: The defining commercial-MEP capital event of the window — top-tier sponsor plus sovereign-adjacent capital underwriting contracted commercial mechanical service revenue at national scale.

4. Truelink Capital → JT Thorpe Group — Platform (PE-to-PE, from H.I.G. Capital, Jul 30 2026)
Truelink acquired the $1B+ revenue industrial-services platform (refractory, fireproofing, insulation, mechanical, asset-integrity) from H.I.G. Capital.
Why it matters: One of the largest industrial-MEP platform changes of hands this window, signaling continued sponsor rotation among the largest mission-critical industrial services platforms.

5. ADIA + GIC (minority) → Pye-Barker Fire & Safety — Recap (minority, Jan 2025)
Two sovereign-wealth-adjacent institutional investors took a minority stake in Pye-Barker alongside continuing sponsors Altas Partners and Leonard Green.
Why it matters: Sovereign capital validating the largest FLS roll-up in the country is a strong signal of institutional conviction in the category — Pye-Barker went on to complete 57 add-ons in FY2025 and 22 more in H1 2026.

- APi Group (NYSE: APG) → continued public-strategic FLS consolidation: CertaSite (from Riverside, Dec 2025), WTech Fire Group (Europe, closed Jul 2026), Onyx-Fire Protection (Canada, from Blackstone Tactical Opportunities, 2026) — public buyer; context, not PE master
- Legence (Nasdaq: LGN; IPO Sep 2025; Blackstone retains a stake) → commercial energy-services, engineering & mechanical; acquired The Bowers Group (Beltsville MD; mechanical/plumbing/process; ~$325M+, Jan 2026); now a public strategic — context, not PE master

Structural indicators (in window, commercial-relevant)

- Fire & Life Safety M&A up ~67% YoY in 2025 to ~125 transactions (Breakwater via CT Acquisitions)
- Electrical contractor acquisitions: 99 in 2025 vs. 140 in 2024 (Cascade Partners); mix shifting to larger PE platform deals; 2026 rebound expected on data-center, grid-modernization, electrification tailwinds
- HVAC Equipment PE sponsor acquisitions +2.7% YoY in 2025; data-center cooling the primary end-market catalyst (Capstone Partners)
- Commercial HVAC service consolidation remains the single most active MEP subsector this window by platform count (PremiStar, NexCore, United Building Solutions, Solidaire, Airside all active/newly formed) — reflecting durable recurring-revenue demand from data-center and mission-critical cooling
